

Dear partner,

The University of León (E LEON01 - Spain) is organizing the Blended Intensive Programme with the title “Do you accept the challenge? International development cooperation in the European framework: an interdisciplinary approach”.

The course offers the possibility of advanced training to Bachelor and Master students and will take place ONLINE from 3rd April 2024 - 17th May 2024 and PHYSICALLY from 15th - 19th April 2024 in the city of León (Spain).

ECTS: 3 ECTS (75 hours)

FIELD OF EDUCATION: Social Sciences, Education, Law, ICTs, Engineering, Health and Welfare.

OBJECTIVES (see programme attached):

- Awareness of international cooperation for development from a perspective that cuts across the different areas of knowledge.
- Active dynamics, practical workshops, and games to design intervention proposals.
- Analysis of real cooperation interventions and learning about collaboration possibilities with this project.
- Dissemination of the European Union’s actions and instruments in a globalized context.

We kindly ask you to forward this email to your students, should they be interested in participating in this BIP, and help them in financing the physical part of the mobility through the Erasmus+ grants.

The deadline for submission of the applications ends on the March 20, 2024.

For any additional information please find attached the programme of the BIP.

We are looking forward to receiving your students!

Kind regards from León,
